All for that taste of Taylor's

timothytaylor.co.uk

Our brewing style is influenced by both the American craft brewing scene and the British 'real ale' tradition, and so combining these two influences is at the base of most of our creations.

We started brewing in 2011 in London, & at the beginning of 2021 we commissioned a new production brewing facility on the outskirts of London (Salfords, Redhill to be exact). In doing so we upgraded our Brewhouse and most of our brewing equipment. This new site has allowed us to implement the very best procedures and enable us to brew all our beers in the most consistent way possible.

We brew approachable beers that bring taste, choice and flavour to every pint.

Brewing Goodness

Our beers are great tasting; simple and delicious. All of our beers are made and packaged on our 240 hectrelitre capacity brewery. We are based at top of a little hill in the beautiful town of Arundel, West Sussex.

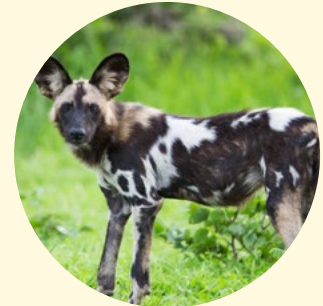

Why Fauna?

We're a small team, with big ambition. Our professionalism rivals that of a larger operation, with a dedicated team who have been at Fauna from the early stages, seeing the brewery from conception to fruition. From the start we have engaged with sustainable and regenerative practices, beginning by ensuring all of our packaging is plastic free and recyclable. We are now eliminating brewing waste, by giving spent grain to feed local cows.

Our Mission

We brew with purpose, and choose a different wildlife conservation cause to support with each beer we brew. So far, we have helped to raise over £50,000 for charities making a real difference to the conservation scene.

Permaculture Goals

We are working with the Norfolk Estate who have farmland around Arundel, all of which is less than 3 miles from the brewery. Our goal is to use their malting barley, reducing travel emissions for this vital brewing ingredient. Through crop rotation, the cattle who will have been fed the spent grain, will then graze in that same field, fertilising the soil, closing the loop and creating a regenerative malting practice.

Meadow Maker

We plant 100 wild flower seeds or a tree sapling for every sale of Meadow Maker, Elderflower Gin or Tree Planter! Wildflower meadows are a highly effective method of carbon capture. We have already begun to plant on site, just behind our Brewery and Taproom. Our next aim is a fruit tree Orchard.

We are partnered with David Shepherd Wildlife Foundation, a charity that works to protect endangered species and their habitats.

Gun Brewery can be found on Gun Hill, in the heart of the East Sussex countryside. Founded in 2015, our aim is simple: Inspired by brewing styles old and new, to make great beer, using the best ingredients. All our beers are brewed using our own spring water, drawn from deep below the wildflower meadows here on the farm. Most are vegan and many are also gluten free. Having won multiple Great Taste Awards over the years, in 2021 the Guild of Fine Foods awarded us the coveted Great Taste Producer status.

BREWING AWARD WINNING BEER SINCE 1987!

We started life as a traditional cask beer brewery with open-top fermenters, based in Bristol. After 16 years we decided to build a state-of-the-art brewery and refresh our brand. Our custom-made equipment has allowed us the ability to plan and create all the styles of beers we had only previously dreamt about.

We drilled down to get 100% authentic Bristol water. We installed solar to offset our carbon footprint. All waste produced at the brewery is put back into the ecosystem through either cattle feed or fertilizer.

HOP UNION - OUR GOAL - We are striving to be a great employer and a great place to work. We want to produce all types of beer that are as good as the best in their class. We want to give back to the community as much as we can, we want to unite people in taste. Most importantly, we want people to have fun.
